FAMILY-OWNED SINCE 1972

In 1972, we opened our very first store in a converted laundromat in Dallas, Texas. Co-founders Ken Gjemre and Pat Anderson stocked the store with more than 2,000 books from their personal libraries and began buying books from the public. Based on the simple desire to "waste not and read a lot," they established what would later become America's largest, family-owned new and used book retailer - Half Price Books.

Today, we have more than 120 stores in 16 states and continue to expand in new and existing markets. Our stores are packed with new and used books, music, movies, games, gaming consoles and more. Plus, we've expanded our inventory to offer our customers a wide selection of brand new bestsellers. In addition, we are now hosting local and nationally-known authors for readings, panel discussions and book signings at our stores. This year, we are excited to share the reading recommendations of some of our favorite authors in our 2015 calendar.

And looking to the future, we will be premiering our new and improved website HPB.COM in early 2015. This will be another place where you can browse and shop for your favorite authors and titles. So if you are looking for books online or in store, Half Price Books will still be your one-stop book shop.

OUR COMMITMENT TO THE COMMUNITY

HALF PRICE BOOKS GIVES BACK TO THE COMMUNITY IN A VARIETY OF WAYS. BECAUSE PRESERVING AND RECYCLING RESOURCES IS PART OF OUR DAILY BUSINESS, WE ENCOURAGE EVERYONE TO HELP SUSTAIN THE ENVIRONMENT. WHETHER IT'S BY PLANTING TREES OR DECLINING TO USE A PLASTIC BAG. EACH YEAR HPB DONATES BOOKS TO SCHOOLS AND NONPROFIT ORGANIZATIONS, BOTH IN THIS COUNTRY AND AROUND THE WORLD. WE ALSO SUPPORT TEACHERS AND LIBRARIANS BY OFFERING AN EDUCATOR'S DISCOUNT CARD, WHICH PROVIDES AN EXTRA 10% DISCOUNT OFF THEIR PURCHASES YEAR ROUND. HALF PRICE BOOKS WOULD LIKE TO THANK OUR CUSTOMERS FOR MAKING ALL THIS POSSIBLE.
